From humble beginnings 20 years ago with only Tommy Liversage, his wife Charlotte and three staff members, Liversage Panelbeaters has established itself as a leader in the city's vehicle repair industry and reached a new milestone when the business recently relocated to its brand-new custom-made facilities at 94 Silicon Street in Ladine.

The business was awarded the number one spot as the Regional Best Motor Body Repairer (MBR) in the province for the second time in 2020, and also ended among the 10 best motor body repairers in the country. It was the second year that the company participated as a member of Lightstone Auto in the Lightstone EchoMBR ranking awards.

Lightstone awards motor body repairers on the bases of satisfaction and the experience of their customers. They based the awards on monitoring between 45 000 and 50 000 monthly reports of repairs of 25 manufacturing brands and six major insurers across the country.

Liversage Panelbeaters is a family business with founder, Tommy Liversage. His son, Charl Liversage, joined the team as an apprentice in 2008. He qualified as a spray painter in 2011 and took over the reign from his dad. Charl takes responsibility for final touches on all vehicles before it gets delivered to the client. Charl is a perfectionist and the neatness of the premises is testimony to his goal of complete customer satisfaction. "Our customers are our family.

We rely on word of mouth and returning customers. We go the extra mile and it doesn't matter that we're not the biggest, we are the best and that gives us great satisfaction," Charl says.

Tommy is extremely proud on his 11 staff members. "Our employees are well-trained and very loyal to the business. Some of them have been with us from the first day," he explains.

"We solely attribute the success of our business to the grace of God. We have a church sermon on our premises once a month and invite workers from other businesses in the industry to join us," he explains.

Charl thanked all their loyal customers for their support over the years. "Our goal is to please our customers, and we work very hard for them," he concluded.
